GEORGIA MAY

(Novelty Fox Trot)

Music by PAUL DENNIKER

Moderato

Piano introduction for 'Georgia May'. The music is in 2/4 time, starting with a moderate tempo. It features a series of chords and eighth-note patterns in both the treble and bass staves. The key signature has one sharp (F#). The introduction ends with a 'Vamp' section marked with a 'p' (piano) dynamic.

VOICE

Just a friend-ly warn-ing stran-ger, Bet-ter look out, you're in dan-ger; Tho your heart is strong, It won't be that way long; There's a girl just got here late-ly,

Full of fire tall and state-ly; Pret-ty as a pic-ture too, So I'm warn-ing you:—

CHORUS

If her sweet-ness makes you lose your speech, And you hear them say-in' "what a peach!" Then Does she make your heart go pit-a-pat, Has she got a lot of this an' that?— I'm right a-way,— I'll safe-ly say,— It's GEOR-GIA MAY,— If you see the men all here to claim,— I knew her name,— It's GEOR-GIA MAY,— Does she make men stare and clos-ing shop,— And the crowd de-fies the traf- fic cop,— Therè's just one cause, for break-in' laws,— wom-en frown?— Has the Dea-con laid his Hymnbook down?— You can't den-y, the rea-son why,—

That's GEOR-GIA MAY,— In all beaut-y shows that girl's the fea- ture,
Is GEOR-GIA MAY,— All the gig-i-los fall in her clutch-es,

Ev-'ry-bod-y knows that she's one gor-geous— crea-ture;— If you
In her clothes she walks and looks just like a— duch-ess;— If she's want to play with dy-na-mite,— If you want to lose your heart on sight,— Then here's your chance, take made you give up ev-ry-thing,— And you'll ev-en buy a wed-ding ring,— I'm here to bet,— that just one glance,— At GEOR-GIA MAY.— you have met,— Miss GEOR-GIA MAY.—
